* Or the Agent for the time being acting for Messrs. Roux de Frassinet & Co.

 Any of the above Parties, being Subscribers to Lloyd's Register Book, may have "Lloyd's Agent" inserted against their Names in the List of Subscribers, if they desire it.

2. Damage by sea water during the voyage should be carefully distinguished from damage arising from other causes, as, for example, from bad stowage or packing, vermin, pilfering, inherent causes, or from the goods having been exposed to rain or damp before shipping or after discharging.

In some cases it may be necessary that the Agent should personally satisfy himself that these instructions are carried out.

Survey of Goods on Landing.—The survey of damage should take place as soon as the goods are landed, and with this object the Agent should immediately offer his services to the consignee. In the event ...asonable delay taking place before the Agent's services are called in, the Agent should not refuse ... grant a certificate, with the date of the arrival of the vessel, and the date and place of ... noted on it.

... separated from Damaged.—The Agent is to see that the sound portions of each ...eparated from the damaged, and he will particularise the quantity of each in his certificate. ...nt of the separation of the sound goods from the damaged not being assented to by the ...ees, the Agent will notify their objections.

Damage in Craft.—In all ports where it is necessary to discharge goods into lighters or craft, the Agent is required to ascertain whether the person in charge of such lighter or craft has demanded of the master or mate of the vessel discharging, a certificate, or himself given a receipt, expressing any apparent damage or defects in the goods delivered over to him; and the Agent is to make a note of the same upon his survey.

Deck Loads.—The Agent will ascertain and notify whether any and what goods were laden on deck.

... of Goods at an intermediate Port.—In the case of a vessel putting into an intermediate port, ... protest against the sale of any part of the cargo unless absolutely necessary from its ...tion.

... case of a vessel being wrecked short of its destination, the Agent will offer to co-operate with ... or other representatives of the assured in procuring a conveyance for the cargo to its original ...ation in the best and most expeditious manner.

Sale to take place in reasonable time.—The sale should take place within a reasonable time from the period of landing, and the usual certificate of sound value should give the market value of the goods at the date of sale.

Exaggerated Valuations.—Care should be taken to guard against exaggerated valuations; and if part of the goods arrive in a sound state, and are sold, a certified copy of the sale of such sound part should always be furnished.

Documents.—The documents required by the underwriter for the adjustment of average on goods damaged by sea water are as follows:—

1. The Protest, which should be compared with the Log Book and certified by the Agent, who should report any discrepancies that may be discovered between them.
2. Survey on board and certificate of stowage.
3. Survey on goods landed, stating clearly cause and nature of damage; if the damage does not arise from sea water, the same should be certified, as well as its probable cause. The survey should also state the mode in which the goods were packed; and if in tin or zinc, whether pro soldered; and in cases of claim for leakage of liquids, the condition of the packages on lan and whether the same were of good construction and fit for the voyage.

4. Custom House Certificate of rebate of duties on account of damage.
5. Certificate of the market price or value of the goods at the time of sale for cash if they arrived free from damage, or certificate of the actual sale of the sound, which is always t preferred.
6. Account sales of damaged goods duly certified and showing whether sold in bond or duty p and for cash or credit; and if for credit, state what deduction for discount should be mad reduce the proceeds of sales to cash.
7. The Agent to certify on his certificate which of the charges described in the docum in consequence of the damage, and if sold by auction whether any and w... ...n of auctioneer's commission is returned, also if any and what charges are paid by the buyer the goods.
8. In cases of damage to articles usually sold by weight, it is desirable, where practicable, to forw a certificate of the weight of the sea-damaged portion, also the total gross and net landing wei of the sound portion of each mark separately.

Capture of Neutral Goods in Enemies' Vessels.—If the country in which the Agent resides at war with any other country, and a captured vessel of that other country should be brought into any p within the Agent's district, he should watch the proceedings of the Prize Court, and endeavour to prev any sale of the cargo either before or after the condemnation of the vessel as lawful prize.

In reporting the circumstances to Lloyd's, he should point out particularly what steps it will necessary for the owners of the goods to take, whether in any local Marine Court or in the Central Cour Prize, to obtain possession of their goods, and should specify the documents which the Court will require establishing the ownership of the goods, and for proving that the owners belong to a neutral country.

Insured Property in Peril.—When a vessel is in distress or on shore within the limits of district, it is the duty of Lloyd's Agent to make such arrangements with the master for recovering, saving, preserving the property as may be deemed expedient. It is repeated that the Agent, by this instructi is not empowered to accept an abandonment of either ship or cargo.

Salvage.—In all cases where salvage or remuneration is claimed for assistance rendered to vess the Agent should attend the meetings of commissioners, magistrates, or other persons legally authori to determine the amount, in order to rebut, by the evidence of the master and crew, any exaggera statements on the part of the salvors.

Salvage for Recapture.—It has frequently happened, when a vessel has been captured recaptured, that instead of the salvage being paid, and the vessel proceeding to her port of destinati both vessel and cargo have been sold for the payment of salvage, and the loss of the underwriters b thereby much increased. It is therefore incumbent on the Agent to endeavour, upon every occasion, to t such steps as appear requisite for an adjustment of the salvage, so that the vessel may proceed with her ca to her port of destination.

Average Statements.—The Agent is not to make up or sign any statement of average, either gen or particular, leaving any claim to be adjusted between the underwriters and the assured upon the docume furnished.
